
Here's an Instant Activity for December 18, 2006

STRATEGY FOR SPELLING SUCCESS

For most learners, spelling well doesn't just happen. It is the result of a conscientious spelling and word-skill curriculum that:

1. provides a menu of skill-building activities that range in sophistication to teach critical concepts at a student's own level,
2. uses assessment to gather information to target word study to the specific words each student has not learned from among all previously introduced words in the program, as well as to identify skills not yet mastered,
3. equips teachers with guidelines for spelling expectations in everyday writing that increase as students develop as writers, making the classroom a rehearsal for real-world writing, and
4. proposes multiple opportunities to engage parents in the acquisition of spelling skills with their child.

This Instant Activity helps teachers achieve item number 1 above.

Meeting state standards is a priority of the Sourcebook Series. Instant Activities further support skills and concepts reflected in state standards.

LEVEL OF DIFFICULTY

Approximately Grade 4

PURPOSE

To provide proofreading practice.

Skills: visual skills, proofreading, spelling, test-taking preparation, suffix practice

SUGGESTED USE

This activity can be used to complement Unit 12, Concept Two, page 113, of the Level 4 Sourcebook (2nd or 3rd Edition)—and to help students develop proofreading skills.

In addition, this activity helps students prepare for taking standardized format tests. To make the activity authentic, items for proofreading are not limited to only those words and skills included heretofore in the students' instruction in the Series. Further, the format parallels standardized test formats to help students develop test-wise skills prior to their taking an actual standardized test.

TEACHING DIRECTIONS

Print the Instant Activity and distribute a copy to each student. Discuss the activity to ensure that students know what is expected.

You may wish to do this as a timed activity (about ten minutes)—tell students you will tell them when to start, when they have one minute left, and when to stop.
